- Increase revenue and maximize sales resource capacity
- Improve morale and reduce turnover with equitable territory design
- Easily design or realign future territories without affecting current plans
- Ensure every opportunity to create revenue is uncovered
- Communicate territory configurations inside the CRM

Companies that invest in territory management software capabilities will gain 1% to 3% more revenue than they otherwise would have achieved.

Gartner, Top Processes for CRM Sales, January 2010

MapAnything TerrAlign, the first fully cloud-based, enterprise-level, territory design and optimization solution, allows business leaders to quickly and efficiently create better territories that maximize sales resource capacity. Easily compute how many sales reps are needed and determine exactly where they need to be.

Advance Territory Management & Optimization

Build and realign optimized territories which maximize geographic potential and reach. Drive morale with equitable, efficient territories that enable reps to service more accounts in less time, with the information they need at their fingertips.

Leverage Optimized Territories to Create Optimal Routes & Schedules

Create the foundation for the most comprehensive territory plans for your field reps, complete with daily and weekly routes that yield more visits in less time. Maximize capacity of your field resources by leveraging drive-time and road networks to put routes in the right place.

Manage Territories Inside of Salesforce

Maximize investments by leveraging a complete territory design and maintenance solution certified and integrated with Salesforce. Easily manage and communicate territory configurations with leaders and field reps. Quickly create, view, and share reports or dashboards that visualize territory success.
