

MapAnything[®]

Connector for ArcGIS[®]

Visualize ArcGIS Online data and other geospatial analytics alongside territories, routes, or Salesforce data inside MapAnything. Save time and turn Salesforce data into location-enabled actionable intelligence.

The only ArcGIS integrated solution that has been secured, backed, and approved by Esri, the MapAnything Connector for ArcGIS allows you to:

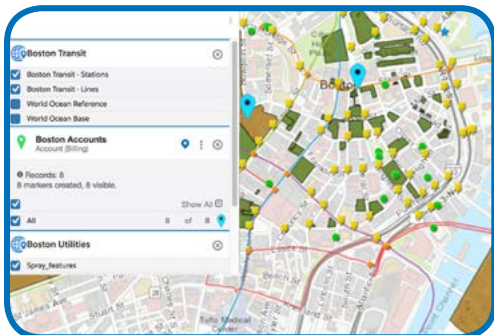

- Access critical GIS and spatial intelligence alongside live field resource data inside Salesforce
- Visually verify existence of infrastructure in question and ensure outages are solved as quickly as possible
- Plan utility expansions with all affected stakeholders in mind to build trust in your brand

“

“Before MapAnything, I was only able to complete about 10 to 15 cases a day, and now, I am able to complete 20 to 30. While I’m in the field, I can investigate assets like drains and gullies to see what previous cases exist and what repairs we’ve carried out in the past.”

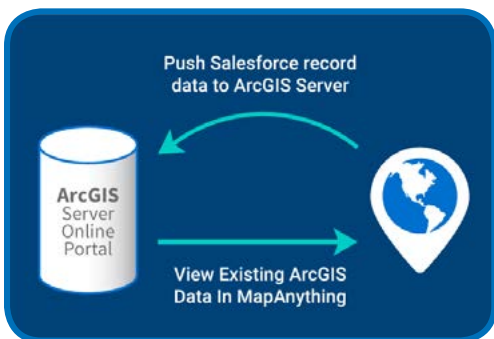

Jack Griffiths, Senior Highway Steward at East Sussex Highways

MapAnything enables customers to design optimal territories, create optimal schedules, and map optimal routes enabling field reps to service more accounts in less time. This helps companies to maximize resources, drive productivity and revenue, and increase territory control and visibility, all while reducing expenses.

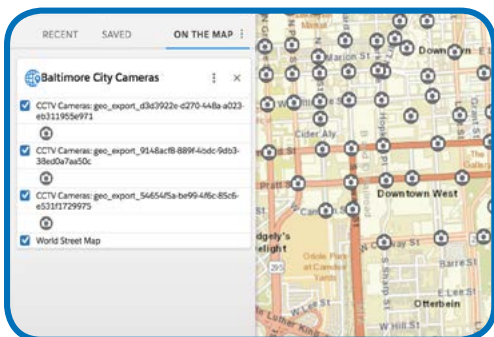

Bring ArcGIS Data to Life

Visualize existing ArcGIS Online & Salesforce data on a map-centric interface within MapAnything to extend the value of ArcGIS data. Verify the existence of infrastructure, appropriately communicating to surrounding affected populations, locating the best area for utility expansion, and more.

Click2Create Automation with One Way Sync

Eliminate time spent performing manual tasks by utilizing custom Apex batches and data syncs from ArcGIS to Salesforce to quickly define an ArcGIS object or custom object mapping from Salesforce to ArcGIS.

Esri-Authorized & Secured

“Over 100,000 public sector clients trust Esri to provide GIS solutions for economic development and drive constituent engagement. The MapAnything Connector for ArcGIS will be invaluable to municipalities and commercial businesses using Salesforce and ArcGIS, enabling them to maximize return on investment from both technologies.”

Chris Cappelli, Esri director of global sales and business development.

About MapAnything

MapAnything offers the industry's leading geo-enabled field productivity solutions that leverage mapping and optimization technologies. We enable our customers to maximize the productivity of their sales and service resources.

MapAnything is the only global Enterprise Platform that allows the user to go from Territory Design and Planning, thru to Field Execution and Visualization of results.